Keifer Likely to be Worsted by General Boynton.

Senators Will Reconsider the Mexican Reciprocity Treaty.

Morrison's Tariff Bill to be Reported Favorably.

Keifer-Boynton

WASHINGTON, March 6.—In the Keifer-Boynton investigation Gen. W. S. Rosecrans testified that he had known Gen. Boynton long years and had never heard his integrity impeached in the slightest degree until he heard Gen. Keifer's speech on the floor of the house. Mr. Ramsey offered in evidence a transcript of the record of the court of general sessions in New York showing the arrest and imprisonment in the Tombs of J. W. Elder for obtaining money by personating W. G. Elder, a New York detective.

General Keifer was placed upon the stand and examined by Ramsey. "At whose solicitation did you, General Keifer, write a letter to the department of justice in behalf of Elder?" asked Ramsey. "I do not remember at whose solicitation," replied Keifer, and Ramsey then asked if witnesses had not paid Elder's board bill at the United States hotel. "No," replied the witness. "Did you advance any money for that purpose?" asked the counsel. The reply was again a negative one, the answer being qualified by the denial of any direct knowledge of the board bill. On being further questioned witness acknowledged that he had furnished sixty or seventy dollars to his counsel to be used for the benefit of Elder. He had heard that Elder was sick and this money went to pay his board. "Elder was not ill at that time, was he?" asked Ramsey. Witness said he knew nothing about that or something to that effect.

Representative Follett, of Ohio, Senator Hawley of Connecticut, Representative Hyatt and others testified strongly in support of General Boynton's good character. Coleman went voluntarily on the stand and made a statement in regard to the payment of money to Elder. He said that when preparing the case he wished to know whether Garfield remembered the conversation between Boynton and Elder and he sent Elder to Cleveland to see Garfield. He gave Elder $50 to pay his expenses, but when he returned he told him (Coleman) he had paid out more than $50 in expenses and that his landlord was very pressing. Elder said $70 would be enough and Coleman had sent that amount to the clerk of the United States hotel.

E. P. Frazer, messenger of the senate, knew Elder; had a reputation for truth and veracity not good at all. Brewster Cameron, general agent for the department of justice, was called. He produced and identified a letter from the files of the department. The letter was read as follows:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, WASHINGTON, January 10th, 1884.

Hon. Benj. H. Brewster, Attorney General.
My DEAR SIR.—I am well acquainted with John W. Elder, who will present this letter to you. I wish to say for him that he is reliable in all respects and I ask you as a personal favor to give him a hearing on the matter about which he wishes to speak. I don't know what it is, but I assure you he does not wish to impose on you in any way.
Yours, with high esteem,
J. WARREN KRIEGER.

Ramsey said he wanted to prove by this witness that the matter which Elder wanted an interview with the attorney general about was connected with star routes, that he wanted to be employed by the department ostensibly in the prosecution of star route investigations, but in reality for the purpose of operating against the government and in the interest of those implicated in the frauds. The chairman of the committee decided that this testimony would be better suited for Spruiger's committee and ruled it out. Cameron said the department was under the impression that Keifer had written this letter at the instance of Kellogg, but this was denied by Keifer, who said ex-representative Amos Townsend of Cleveland, Ohio, requested him to write the letter. After it had been decided not to do anything for Elder witness met Keifer and called his attention to the fact that Elder's reputation had been shown not to be good, whereupon Keifer, as witness remembered it, said he thought the department was able to take care of itself. Witness told Keifer that Elder was said to have kept a house of prostitution. Witness also told Keifer that Elder claimed to have managed Keifer's canvass for the speakership and that Keifer was therefore under obligations to Elder. General Keifer said that was false. Ramsey said to the chairman, "That is all. The witness has closed." The committee adjourned until Tuesday.

The Tariff Bill

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The house committee on ways and means today acted favorably upon the Morrison tariff bill. As agreed upon it places salt, coal and lumber on the free list, with a proviso with respect to coal in effect that it shall not apply to Canada until that country places coal on the free list. The agreement to report the amendment bill favorably was reached by a strict party vote, seven to five; Morrison, Mills, Blount, Blackburn, Herbert, Hurd and James affirmative, and Kelley, Keson, McKinley, Hancock and Russell negative. Hewitt was not present when the vote was taken, but it is known he agrees with the majority and would have voted in favor of the report had he been present. Morrison will make the majority report on the bill Monday.

Woman Suffragists

WASHINGTON, March 6.—At the session of the woman's suffrage convention the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Elizabeth Cady Stanton, of New York, vice presidents at large, Susan B. Anthony, Rochester, New York; Matilda Joselyn Gage, Fayetteville, New York; Phoebe W. Cousins, St. Louis; Abigail Scott Doney, Portland, Oregon, treasurer, James H. Spofford, Washington, D. C., and others, Ruth O. Dennison, Julia A. Wilbur, a board of honorary vice presidents on which every state and territory is represented. A foreign corresponding secretary was appointed.

At noon officers and delegates to the number of 100 called upon the president and were received in the Blue room. Miss Anthony in addressing the president told him the women with her represented 20 states in the union. She appealed to him as a candidate for reelection to come squarely for woman suffrage. The president replied that the convention was a very remarkable assemblage of women. Then he said he had observed when women were determined to carry a point they always succeeded in getting all they ought to have.

Prohibition Asked For

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Representative Finney today presented a petition from several hundred representatives of mechanical pursuits in his district protesting against Chinese coming into this country. The petition asks that the present laws be so amended as to prohibit Chinamen coming to America under the guise of students or merchants, to find employment. Finney says he understands similar petitions are to be presented from all the principal cities of the country.

A Boom for Silver.

This action has caused a slight movement of that coin. Two intimations of five thousand each, of silver dollars were recently shipped to New York in redemption of mutilated bank notes.

The Mexican Treaty

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The senate in executive session took up Senator Morgan's motion made some weeks ago to reconsider the vote by which the Mexican treaty failed of ratification. The motion was called by a majority vote and next Monday named as the day when the treaty will be taken up for discussion, with the understanding that it shall continue until the matter is disposed of.

XIV Congress.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The speaker announced the appointment of Menzies of New Mexico upon the committee on coinage, weights and measures.

The morning hour was dispensed with and the house went into committee of the whole. Converse of Ohio in the chair, on the naval appropriation bill.

In the course of the discussion, Menley re-fused severely on the present secretary of the navy for instigating, as he believed, methods by which the employees of the Mare Island navy yard were compelled to vote the republican ticket.

Reed inquired whether any one had been murdered for not voting right, to which Menley replied, "It would not be much loss to the world if the men who inspired such methods were murdered."

Glasecock interjected the information that employees were, if not murdered, at any rate discharged if they did not vote right. Randall denied that the committee on appropriations exhibited the least hostility to building up the navy. He did not believe there was any considerable number of representatives who did not esteem the navy and its brave officers and seek to make it what it should be and what it was now, but with money already expended and that appropriated in this bill aggregating $584,000 there was no immediate necessity for adding to that amount for years in case of an emergency, which he did not anticipate. The United States could buy guns she had in market in England, and France and Germany. If the house expected that there should continue to be economy in the administration of the various departments it must sustain the committee on appropriations when it gives intelligent reasons for its recommendations.

Belford offered an amendment authorizing a detail of naval line officers to act as instructors in state universities and agricultural colleges, provided the total number detailed shall not exceed forty. Adopted.

Calkins moved to amend the clause prohibiting officers on the list from accepting a retired position in the civil service in the United States by providing that the prohibition shall not apply to any officer below the rank of major in the army or commander in the navy.

who has been retired by reason of wounds received in the service. Adopted.

The committee then rose and reported the bill to the house and it passed, yeas 250, nays 1 [While of Kentucky].

On motion of Randall the request of the senate for a conference on the joint resolution increasing the contingent fund of the senate was agreed to and Randall, Holman and Ryan appointed conferees.

Adjourned.

Among memorials presented was one by Cockrell from united labor organizations of St. Louis protesting against attempts of employees, as illustrated by events in Connecticut with glass blowers and other trades, to reduce compensation of American labor to a point on a level with the pauper labor of Europe and praying for the passage of laws to restrict wholesale immigration as tending to effect a reduction of wages of American workmen.

Sawell presented as a memorial a series of resolutions of the senate of New Jersey opposing the Morrison tariff bill and expressing the belief of that body that anything approaching tariff for revenue only would materially injure if not totally destroy the manufacturing interests of New Jersey.

Sheehan called up a message announcing the action of the house in the senate joint resolution appropriating $10,000 for the contingent fund of the senate. The amendment of the house which provides that money so appropriated shall only be used for investigations already ordered was read, and after a general expression of the views of senators unanimously condemning the amendment of that body with the independence of the senate, a vote by yeas and nays was taken and the senate unanimously decided not to concur in the amendment, and a committee consisting of Sherman, Wilson and Butler was appointed to confer with a like committee of the house on the subject.

Dills were reported favorably and placed on the calendar.

By Maxey, committee on postoffices and post roads, a bill fixing the rate of postage to be paid upon mail matter of the second-class was sent by others than publishers or news agents. It fixes the rate on transient newspapers one cent for four ounces the present rate being one cent for two ounces.

Brown, committee on railroads, a bill granting the Fort Worth & Denver City railroad right of way through Indian territory.

Pendleton's bill providing a system of courts for the exercise of authority conferred upon the United States in places outside of their territory and dominion passed, 31 yeas, 11 nays.

The senate went into executive session and when the doors re-opened proceeded to the consideration of bills upon its calendar.

A bill reported by Manderson from the committee on claims appropriating $300,000 to Col. Albert H. Emery for the invention and construction of a machine for testing iron and steel was taken up and after debate passed.

Sullivan-Robinson

SAN FRANCISCO, March 6.—Fifteen thousand people were inside the Pavilion this evening to witness the Sullivan Robinson match. It is estimated as many more were turned away. The receipts from the sale of tickets were close on $50,000. The tickets were sold at five dollars in advance. The hall arrangements under Hugh Colt were perfect. One hundred police were distributed in the audience to preserve order. Sullivan made his first appearance at 9:50 in first class form and was greeted enthusiastically. A few seconds later he was followed by Robinson, whose condition was unfavorably commented on by the audience. The former weighed 204, the latter 170 pounds. The announcement that the police disallowed the use of three ounce gloves was hissed. Eight-ounce gloves were used. Thomas Chandler was referee, H. B. Cook time-keeper for Robinson, Wm. Muldoon for Sullivan. Robinson was knocked down eight times in the first round, going down at each blow of Sullivan without receiving punishment.

The second round was an exact repetition of the first, except that Robinson fell down 14 times in succession.

Third round. Same maneuvers on the part of Robinson, who however did not succeed in avoiding punishment, getting several severe blows, none of which appeared to take the starch out of him. In this round a claim of foul was made on the part of Sullivan's time keeper, that Robinson fell without being struck by Sullivan. The claim was not noticed by the referee.

Fourth round—Robinson's trick of falling without exchange of blows was too evident for the referee to allow it to pass. The round was undisturbed and the match given to Sullivan on the foul specified above.

Robinson escaped without apparent punishment, though Sullivan planted several left-handed undercuts on his face when Robinson was in the act of falling. Robinson's conduct was severely censured by the spectators, and Sullivan loudly cheered. A match had been arranged between Pete McCoy and young Dutch, but was stopped by the police on account of the gloves to be used.

Hard Glove Fight.

NEW YORK, March 6.—Four hundred persons, including leading sporting men and prominent politicians, at 3 o'clock this morning witnessed a hard glove fight at a well-known resort on Coney Island between Billy Gracey, of Green Point, and Jack Dempsey, of New York. The fight was for the lightweight championship, four hundred dollar stakes and gate money. Gracey is 22 years of age, well built and weighs 143 pounds. Dempsey is 138 pounds, 25 years old. They were evenly matched and punished each other severely. Gracey threw up the sponge in the ninth round.

Terrific Boiler Explosion

LAWRENCE, Mass., March 6.—The boiler of J. T. Tree's dyeing establishment exploded, killing the engineer, John Trees, Jr., fatally injuring Wm. Moreland and Michael Cronin, two employees. The force of the explosion was so great that three buildings were shattered into splinters. Pieces of the boiler and debris were thrown four hundred feet crashing through the roofs of dwellings.

A Brutal Exhibition

LONG ISLAND CITY, March 6.—A great dog fight between Belcher, of New York, and Danger, of Boston, took place today and was given to the latter, Belcher turning over although apparently but slightly injured. Danger on the contrary had his fore legs broken and throat badly torn. The prize was $3,500 and gate money. Three hundred men paid an entrance fee of ten dollars each.

STAR ROUTE STEAL.

MacVeagh Gives his Connection with the Prosecution.

The San Juan Division Again Blockaded by Snow.

Arthur's Administration Endorsed by Louisiana Republicans.

Star Route History

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Ex Attorney General MacVeagh continued his testimony today before the Spruiger committee relative to his connection with star route cases. Those cases would present themselves to anybody's mind as having very grave political complications, from the high position of some of the accused. In addition there was a well-marked division of opinion in the republican party. MacVeagh remembered explaining to President Garfield the great gravity of the initial steps of the investigation. At their first appearance the figures were so startling and the evidence of mismanagement so absolute it seemed to him that the president ought to consider before taking any step from which retreat would be impossible. "It was one of the misfortunes of the case," MacVeagh said, "that up to this time no efforts had been made to secure indictments of the three gentlemen most prominently mentioned, Dorsey, Brady and Kellogg. It was then absolutely impossible to make an intelligent presentation of the cases. I had said to Dorsey and his counsel," MacVeagh continued, "that we had no charges to formulate. We were not in a position to do so. I went to an eastern college to see my boys graduate, but received telegrams summoning me back immediately to counteract an effort of Dorsey and others to have me turned out of the cabinet. If I replied at all I said that the object was not near enough to my heart to shorten my visit and did not return until I expected to. When I returned I was told vigorous efforts had been made to turn me out on the ground of base conduct, it even being intimated that I had engaged in a plot to steal papers sent to the president. I was only interested to know if the president had seen fit to receive such charges. He said he had declined them. These charges had been made by Rerdell. Before the death of the president I thought it my duty to remain; after his death I thought it my duty to leave. I was known to have been in very ardent political sympathy with President Garfield. Reports of unfriendliness between President Arthur and myself were untrue. Nothing but the utmost kindness and friendliness existed." MacVeagh said he desired to have District Attorney Corbhill removed but the president differed with him and said Corbhill should remain to prosecute Guiteau. Witness did not consider one hundred dollars a day an unreasonable compensation for attorneys in the star route cases.

Ex Senator Spencer is expected to appear before the committee to-morrow.

The Kansas Cattle Disease

EMPIRE, Kas., March 6.—A reporter of the Republican gives the following facts regarding the cattle disease at Neosho Falls and vicinity. Yesterday morning forty of Lyon county's stockmen accompanied by several newspaper representatives started for Neosho Falls on a special train to examine into the states of the foot and mouth disease, which was reported to exist there in such a malignant form. At the junction the parties were joined by G. W. Glick, Wm. Sims, secretary of the state board of agriculture, and Dr. Holbrook, United States veterinary surgeon of Fort Leavenworth. The train reached Neosho Falls shortly after 3 o'clock. Lieutenant-Governor Finney met the party.

The first place visited was that of Dan Keith, which is five miles north of town. This gentleman has about 120 head in his herd. During the holidays he noticed the first symptoms of the disease which had been proved beyond doubt to be the mouth and foot disease. Of his cattle about 60 are affected. The sight presented in the corral where the cattle were consigned was sickening, some with one foot off, some with two, while others had no feet at all. Dr. Holbrook at once began examining the cattle and found more or less the symptoms of the dreaded disease prevalent in all. Some were broken at the feet and several were noticed which appeared to be recovering. It is learned that the first symptoms which were noticed were the jerking up of one leg by the cattle and arching their backs as if cold. There can be no doubt but that the fatal poison which produces this disease was first communicated to this herd and afterwards to others in the neighborhood. The Keith cattle were all natives. While suffering with this disease the cattle all manifested good appetites and ate very heartily. Of Keith's cattle fully a dozen have lost one foot or more and are thereby disabled. Keith stated that three of his cattle and a sucking calf had died from this disease.

The next was Mr. Goodrich and Ed. Hurdman. In this herd there are nearly six head and thirty were affected. At this place a fine cow was seen with her two hind feet about to come off. Before proceeding to the third and last place visited a consultation of state officials and Dr. Holbrook was held. The latter stated his opinion as to the disease. A large number of farmers and ranchmen from the neighboring country assembled during the afternoon, anxious to know what the officials had to say about the disease. The doctor gave as his opinion that the mouth-and-foot disease existed in a very contagious form. He suggested rigid quarantine as a means of preventing its spread, and showed how necessary this was, as the disease is the most easily spread of any known to veterinary surgery.

NEW YORK, March 6.—The chamber of commerce adopted a resolution to the effect that it is desirable that the money of the United States should consist of gold and silver coin of interchangeable relative value, and that coins should be regulated by public demand, that the coinage of silver dollars should cease for two years, and that an address should be sent to congress upon the question.

Louisiana Republicans

NEW ORLEANS, March 6.—When the republican state convention reassembled to-day W. P. Kellogg, permanent president, delivered an address upon the political issues, favoring protection and declaring opposition to the Morrison bill. The convention then confirmed the nominations of delegates to Chicago.

Marinet of St. Martin offered a resolution endorsing the administration of Arthur and directing the Louisiana delegation to the Chicago convention to support him for renomination. This resolution, together with one presented by Dingrave of Oulchita, endorsing John A. Logan for president, was referred to the committee on address and resolutions.

NEW ORLEANS, March 6.—After recess the committee reported the following nominations, which were accepted. For governor, John A. Stevenson, of Iberville; lieutenant governor, William Duwell, secretary of state, F. W. Leggett. The convention endorsed the administration of President Arthur and, without pledging or instructing the Louisiana delegates to the national convention, declared his renomination for president if deemed wise would meet with the hearty approval of the republicans of Louisiana.

KANSAS CITY, March 6.—W. H. Oiler, agent at this city for the Continental East Freight Line, committed suicide this evening. He leaves a wife in a delicate condition. Oiler was formerly of Chicago.

A Murder Shot.

EMPIRE, Kas., March 6.—A sensational shooting took place in this city this afternoon where Prof. or Nutting, a teacher of music, was shot at three times, two shots taking effect, by Jas. L. Dougherty, mail agent on the Santa Fe railroad and a resident of Emporia. The shooting was occasioned by a scandal that had been public talk for many months of improper relations between Nutting and Mrs. Dougherty. A divorce suit had been instituted by the aggrieved husband and is now pending. The wounded man is reported not in danger, although severely hurt. The third ball grazed a bystander. Public sympathy seems entirely with Dougherty.

The Floods.

MEMPHIS, March 6.—An Appeal's Helena, Ark., special says. The levee broke to-day one mile above Friar's Point which inundated that thriving little city. The river at Glendale, opposite here, has attained the height of the water mark of 1880 and many places from Glendale to Clarkdale in the interior report water from two to three inches higher than ever known.

A Dangerous Conspiracy—Discovered in Geneva.

The War in Egypt

LONDON, March 6.—Earl Granville announced in the house of lords this afternoon the receipt of Egyptian dispatches which reported that 1,000 men who were marching from El Obeid upon Khartoum had been defeated by tribes friendly to General Gordon.

In the commons House of Commons, secretary of state for war, moved an appropriation of £388,000 to cover the cost of the Sudan expedition. Stanley, conservative, criticized severely the government's Egyptian policy. Gladstone replied that the expedition to As suan involved no change of policy. It was necessary to prevent the extension from spreading. The government would adhere to its determination to pay no heed to remarks of foreign newspapers and had no intention of assuming the government of Egypt. Such an act would be a gross breach of the public law of Europe. [Cheers.] The troops will be withdrawn at the earliest moment possible. Henry Labouchere, radical, moved to reduce the appropriation to £100,000.

General Graham has been ordered to disperse the rebels within ten miles of Suakin, but not operate at a greater distance from the city. When these are dispersed it is believed the tribes will become friendly.

LONDON, March 6.—General Graham with 3,000 men advances from Suakin Monday against Osman Digma. Osman Digma remains at Handoub ready to accept battle.

War on Dynamiters

LONDON, March 6.—Advices from Vienna and Berlin come in contradictory the report that Germany, Austria and Russia have entered into a formal alliance. Organized anarchists and dynamiters have been ordered upon without a special treaty. The police department has been instructed to cooperate. The Swiss government has ordered the arrest of a number of anarchists at Berne and the search of domiciles of suspected persons and the office of the workmen's society at Berne. Swiss police have arrested a German anarchist named Kerner. They sent information to Vienna which led to the seizure of Kammern and other anarchists. Refugees at Geneva suspected a man named Penkert, a rampant anarchist speaker, to be a German spy. He received a warning and suddenly disappeared.

GENEVA, March 6.—It is believed the police hold clues to an extensive conspiracy, which would have sacrificed hundreds of lives.

LONDON, March 6.—A suspicious looking bag was found in the Chester railroad station. Paris police press newspapers addressed to suspected dynamiters from America. It is supposed the papers were sent to convey orders as they are punctured.

FRIDAY, MARCH 7, 1884.

College Notes.

Nine students are now in the metallurgical department.

Professor Loud is now teaching a class in analytical chemistry.

A college hat promises to be the next sensation among the students.

There are at present twenty-two persons boarding at the college boarding club.

The classes in Ethics and Comparative History of Religions will be examined to day.

Nine students have entered for the Kerr prize debate, and three for the Kerr prize essay.

The winter term will close next Wednesday, after which there will be a vacation of one week.

Several of the students have received admissions from the faculty for lack of punctuality at chapel exercises.

The Occidental club will not have a literary session this evening, but this meeting will be devoted to the consideration of business.

The Occidental club celebrated their annual supper at Mrs. Kenney's last Friday evening.

An enjoyable time was had by all who were present.

Another foot ball game between the two societies is being talked of. The game last Monday was a creditable one to both sides, being well played and devoid of any quarreling.

The C. C. Y. M. O. C. F. H. and P. H. will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the college.

Mr. Partridge has kindly consented to be present and instruct the members in the use of the Indian clubs.

Professor Sheldon lectured at Manitou a week from yesterday. His subject was the Parthenon, and was illustrated by means of the Hawbridge lantern. The attendance was large, the church in which the lecture was held being crowded.

The Occidental Mirror for March is out. Among other interesting reading matter will be found the reason for the failure of the Occidental club team to play on the 25th ult. It took them a week to conjure up an excuse for their graceful backward, and the excuse itself is certainly a plausible one, and will commend itself to the honorable public.

From present appearances it looks as if the Oratorical association would die a natural death. Most of its members are opposed to putting their hands in their pockets to help Denver walk away with the prize. In two or three years such an association would undoubtedly prove to be quite a success in the college if the number of students should increase.

At the regular meeting of the college fire department last Friday it was moved and carried that the name Hose Cart No. 4 be painted on the new hose cart. The committee of the council on fire department have let the contract for the erection of a building for the use of the department, the cost of which is to be $255. The location of the building has not yet been definitely determined.

Quite a large number of students braved the storm last evening to attend the meeting of the Musical association at Professor Tenney's. The programme as rendered was as follows:

Piano duet... Mrs. Tenney and Miss Marden
Violin solo... A. P. Summers
Violoncello solo... Mrs. Tenney
Vocal solo... M. S. Barrows
Vocal solo... Mrs. Tenney
Piano solo... Miss A. Bean
Piano solo... Miss Irene Barrows

Followed by singing of college songs.

The programme of the literary session of the Irving Institute for this evening is as follows:

Critique... E. B. Curtis
Reading... J. D. Eliaworth
Essay... F. H. Meserve
Oration... John Gould

Debate: Subject—Resolved, That the peaceable annexation of Canada to the United States should be favored.

Affirmative... E. P. Nourse
Negative... G. B. Pickett

The election of officers to serve for the ensuing five weeks will take place at the meeting this evening.

The examinations for the winter term will begin next Monday morning and will continue through Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The programme of examinations is as follows:

The Columbia Club Fire.

President Tenney of Colorado college contributed to the columns of the Occidental Mirror the following letter, which we re-publish for the information of the public:

Generous donations recently received have made it possible to aid the students more than was at first anticipated. My report is therefore more satisfactory than if it had been made last month. In behalf of the student body and out of my own pocket I have contributed for the purpose of clothing and for money, to Mrs. L. E. Bass, Rev. D. M. Dean, Mrs. Hendon, Mrs. Buckard, C. F. Billings, F. Stahl, Mrs. F. E. Burr, Wm. G. Burnes, John Campbell, Mrs. A. F. Carpenter, A. P. Daniels, F. E. Dow, Mrs. Eoff, C. E. Edredge, Wm. T. De Forest, Rev. James B. Gregg, Mrs. P. L. Halleck, Dr. Jas. A. Hart, Mrs. E. L. Holmes, Mrs. Hull, John Ingalls, Ell Johnson, John Jones, Mrs. J. H. Kerr, Miss Jeanette D. Kinsbury, Rev. Willis Lord, D. D., Mr. Larkin, Orlando Metcalf, J. F. Oliphant, Mr. Pearson, Mrs. H. A. Riley, Mrs. Sagen, Dr. John Smith, Mrs. S. E. Solly, L. J. Swaburne, Miss A. A. Warren, Miss C. J. Weldon.

The names of the professors in the college should justly be added. I would be unjust not to mention in a particular manner the large contributions of the subscription list. Wm. T. DeForest, Willis Lord, a friend in Denver, by Mrs. Lyndora K. Bass, Orlando Metcalf, John Campbell, Mrs. Hendon, and to Miss A. A. Warren, through whom the guests of The Antlers contributed more than two hundred dollars. Several contributions were made as "cash" without names, and one honored name was by accident lost from my list.

The total amount of cash contributions is $410.70, which was divided by me according to my best judgment among those who suffered most. The vouchers indicating the donations of receipts and expenditures are in the hands of A. J. Partridge, esq., at the college office. One of the students received a generous amount of money, which did not pass through my hands. In addition to the money presented clothing was contributed to the value of about one hundred and twenty-five dollars, which was duly distributed, also a valuable lot of blankets from P. E. Dow, esq. It is due also to the friends in the city to say that they have sold goods at a large discount to replace what was burned. The total contribution of our citizens must be estimated at $600 in value, all of which was a free will offering. It is indeed fortunate that this college is in a community so kind in the hour of need. By this practical benevolence about three-fourths of the loss on the part of the students is made good.

To the young men who sent a turkey dinner to the newly opened club, and to the young men up town and down town who worked so heartily in saving goods at the fire, and to the fire department, we are very grateful. Had them been fire plugs and a hose carriage near at hand, the brave lads, who so cheerfully put themselves out of breath by a mile and a half run would have done most efficient service. E. P. TENNEY.

Alderman Jones' Views
COLORADO SPRINGS, March 6, 1884.
To the Editor of the GAZETTE.
In your report of Wednesday's council meeting, I am quoted as saying "that the salaries of city officers ought to be increased if it could be done without burdening the city tax payers." This does not convey the spirit of my remarks. I opposed the increase of salaries throughout, and wherever it seemed practicable, favored a reduction. In giving my reasons for this course, I remarked that I believed that some of the city officers were rather scantily paid for their services, but that I could not consent to an increase so long as the burden of taxation is so heavy as it is now. Rigid economy should be the rule, until the system of water works, both for domestic use and irrigation, and the system of school houses are completed and paid for. Further on I am reported as giving the opinion that the "marshal could duplicate his salary by close attention to business." I did not give this as my opinion, but as the opinion of others with whom I had talked about the matter. I am not myself in a position to know what amount the marshal does, or could realize, from the fees and penalties attached to his office. TRING JONES.

The victim is Wm. Dunn and the murderer Jerry Higgins. He tried to conceal the murder by reporting pneumonia, and making a hasty burial. Dunn's intimacy with Higgins' daughter led to the crime. The murderer was arrested.

Two extra policemen are still kept on duty at night.

Mr. G. H. Ruple, of Denver, was among the arrivals at The Antlers yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Edwards Roberts has returned from the Pacific coast after an absence of about two months.

Col. Frank Brennan, of Pittsburg, is spending a few days in Colorado Springs. He reports lots of snow in the mountains.

Attend the temperance mass meeting at the Methodist church to-morrow evening. There will be addresses and good singing.

Sheriff Dana yesterday took out an auctioneer's license, paying the fee for the same the sum of twenty-five dollars as required by the ordinance.

A plaid dinner, a new wrinkle for Colorado Springs, will be given by the ladies of the Presbyterian church at the old Delmonico restaurant to-night.

The commercial men begin to crowd into town for spring trade. There was a large number of them at The Antlers yesterday, in fact there are most any day.

Mr. L. L. Sherman has sold his interest in the grocery business. The firm name will in the future be known as A. M. Ruple & Co. instead of Sherman & Ruple.

All bids for the erection of the new school house must be filed by to-morrow afternoon at 1 o'clock at Dr. Horn's office, at which time they will be opened by the school board.

Don't forget the pink tea given by the Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyterian church this evening at the old Delmonico restaurant rooms on Pike's Peak avenue, third door west of First National bank.

Deputy Sheriff Joe Tell returned from Denver Wednesday night with E. L. Stewart in his custody. He appeared in Justice Phipps' court yesterday afternoon and gave bonds for his appearance again on Monday. There is some possibility that the case will be settled.

The Antlers arrivals: E. L. Stewart, Colorado; Leo Wornser, Cleveland; E. F. Westheimer, St. Joe, Mo.; F. H. Madden, Chicago; Joseph Houghton, Silver Cliff; J. N. Greer, & P. Penfield, St. Louis; St. Louis; E. B. Clark, Chicago; T. Seal, N. Y.; L. M. Bogue, Denver; J. J. Guth, Chicago.

Mr. C. W. Church has returned to Colorado Springs from his visit to New Orleans. He was present at the Mardi Gras festival. Mr. Church does not seem to be very favorably impressed with the south. Prices for living, etc., he found very high and he was glad to get back to Colorado Springs.

Mr. Daniel Moore of this city received a dispatch last evening stating that his brother, J. J. Moore, had shot himself in Denver at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. No particulars were given and it is not known whether it was accidental or an attempt at suicide. Mr. Daniel Moore left for Denver on the early train this morning.

Commissioner Clessey, who has just returned from Denver, informs us that there is considerable excitement among the lumber men in consequence of the late reduction in freight. Lumber can now be brought from Chicago or St. Louis for thirty-seven cents per hundred pounds, the former rate having been sixty-four cents. This makes a difference of almost five dollars per thousand in the price of lumber.

At 10 o'clock yesterday morning in the county court before Judge Colburn the attorneys argued the demurrer filed in the liquor cases. Judge Williams appeared as counsel for nine of the defendants and Messrs. Bentley, Hook and Campbell for prosecution. The first called was John Roman's, it being understood that this would be made a test case and apply to the other eight defendants as well. It was argued by the defendant's counsel that the actions were not properly entitled, they being brought in the name of the people instead of the city of Colorado Springs. The complaint it was held were also defective because the ordinance under which they were brought had not been set out in full. Mr. Campbell, in his argument, maintained that the illegality of process was claimed did not exist and Mr. Hook cited a number of law points supporting the argument, as did also Mr. Bentley. At noon the court adjourned until 9:30 o'clock this morning, when Judge Colburn will render his decision. The cases in which Messrs. Morris and Low appear as attorneys have not yet been called.

The most fashionable cigars among all nations and all classes of men are those that the tobacco grows on the Golden Tobacco Belt of North Carolina. It is the most delicious and refined in the world. ARTHUR GILMAN'S

History of the American People

"We have nothing as good, and are not likely to have," says the very critical editor of the New York Independent.

"The most attractive one volume history of the United States that we have seen"—Boston Literary World.

"Nothing better exists as a compendium of our country's history," says the editor of the Boston Transcript, in the course of a long and careful review.

"Its accuracy will stand."—Boston Transcript.

"Considering the general brevity of the book, it is marvellously full, and considering the long story to be told, crowded with fact and detail, the graceful style, warm coloring and general lifelike animation of the book is a still greater marvel."—N. Y. Independent.

"The extreme care with which the facts have been collected, and the attention shown to the latest results of investigation and discussion, even in minor matters, makes it very valuable as a book of reference."—Pittsburg Eagle.
